# 5 To foster new ideas through leading reading, discussion and debate

My Action Plan:

In 2017, I will be brave and brazen, asking questions over and over (and over again!) till I understand.

This year I commit to reading less if necessary, to make the time to read better.

My mantra will be - discuss more, listen well and actively hear the ideas of others.

On my tablet or phone I will set up a reading list and store links for reading.

This year I will attend sector discussions and stay afterwards (because that's when the good ideas happen!).

In 2017 I commit to learning how to be better at facilitating discussions to give everyone a say.

I will debate because I believe in the quality of ideas and demand those ideas be communicate clearly.

I will believe that I have something to say and will say it.
